EDITORIAL & OPINION

OPINION

THE EDITORIAL BOARD / THE SEAGULLOTINE / LETTERS TO THE EDITOR / READER POLL

OPINION THE EDITORIAL BOARD

FOG REQUIRES MANNERS

Fog does not make the city smaller. It makes every choice closer. Ring the bell, slow the cart, leave a light, and do not assume the person ahead can see your confidence coming.

— THE EDITORIAL BOARD

"FOG DOES NOT MAKE THE CITY SMALLER. IT MAKES EVERY CHOICE CLOSER."

Ring the bell, slow the cart, leave a light, and do not assume the person ahead can see your confidence coming. — The Editorial Board.

FROM THE BOARD

OPINION · THE EDITORIAL BOARD

The Useful Inch

A neighborhood paper should measure itself by the useful inch: the meeting time corrected, the stair warning noticed, the lost mitten reunited. Big ink has its place. So does the small notice that gets somebody home dry.

FROM THE BOARD

OPINION · THE EDITORIAL BOARD

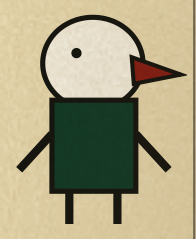

Corrections Are Part of the Record

A correction is not a trapdoor beneath a mistake. It is a lamp placed beside it. We will state the error, print the right fact, and leave the record intact enough for readers to trust it.

THE SEAGULLOTINE

OPINION · THE SEAGULLOTINE

Crumb Policy

The gulls have submitted no petition requesting our sandwiches, yet enforcement remains aggressive. Keep your crumbs. Keep your lunch. Let the opposition organize elsewhere.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Fog Is Not a Shortcut

To the editor: If the end of the block has disappeared, that is not permission to bicycle faster. Bells are cheap. Bandages are not.

— M. Dyer

A Bench for Waiting

The transfer corner needs a bench, even a plain one. Waiting is part of transit and should not require balancing against a cold wall.

— Helen R.

Leave One Light

A single shop light after closing makes a wet street feel inhabited. I know electricity costs money. I also know what welcome looks like.

— Night walker

Storm-Day Neighbors

During the last hard weather, three people checked our basement drain before checking their own supper. That is the city I mean when I say home.

— L. Green

Let the Gulls Lose

Please stop feeding gulls beside the lunch benches. They do not need encouragement, and they have begun to organize.

— P. Ames

READER POLL

Is a bicycle bell polite, necessary, or both?

- ☐ POLITE
- ☐ NECESSARY
- ☐ BOTH
- ☐ OTHER / WRITE-IN _____

Paper ballots collected at listed neighborhood drop boxes. Informal reader poll; not a scientific sample.

LET THE GULLS LOSE.

WE'RE ALL LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LAND.